Memorandum

To: Director

From: Superintendent, Yellowstone

Subject: Superintendent's Monthly Narrative Report, May 1965

General

Weather Conditions. Weather conditions were near normal with some precipitation. Light snow showers and some rain fell. A maximum temperature of 81 degrees was recorded at the North Entrance on May 28. The minimum temperature recorded was 12 degrees at Northeast Entrance on May 10. Temperatures recorded around the Park were:

	Maximum	Minimum
Lake	59° - May 13	13° - May 10
Lamar	70° - 29,30	15° - 18
Mammoth	72° - 30	21° - 6,7,10
Northeast Entrance	60° - 19	12° - 10
North Entrance	81° - 28	36° - 27
Old Faithful	61° - 22	14° - 10
Tower Fall	71° - 30	15° - 18
West Yellowstone	65° - 19	12° - 10

Increase or Decrease in Travel. A total of 60,608 visitors came to the Park during May, a decrease of 3,691 or -5.7%, from May 1964. Dunraven Pass opened for public travel on May 24. Beartooth Highway from Red Lodge to the Northeast Entrance at Cooke City was opened to public travel May 31. Snow depth on the level was approximately 12 feet. Deepest drifts ran from 30 to 35 feet. All roads in the Park were open for travel May 1 except the above. This is the first time in many years that spring snowstorms have not required temporary road closures during the month of May.

Inspection. Assistant Chief of Maintenance, WASO, Russell Olson and Regional Chief of Maintenance, Guy Cooper, Midwest Region, visited Yellowstone April 30 through May 4 to look over snow removal operations and review general maintenance activities.

Foreign Visitors. Dr. Karl Moersch of Germany visited the Park May 28-31. Dr. Moersch, who is traveling under the auspices of the Department of State, is a journalist and member of the German Bundestag.

Dr. A. M. Harthoorn, a visitor from Africa, arrived May 27, 1965. Dr. and Mrs. Harthoorn came to Park headquarters and visited with Superintendent McLaughlin.

A group of seven governors from Thailand, with two interpreters, arrived in the Park May 31, spending the night at Old Faithful Inn. They spent two days touring the Park with Management Assistant James W. Godbolt departing June 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Paulo de Carvalho Patarra of Brazil arrived in the Park May 31. Mr. and Mrs. Patarra are visiting the United States under the auspices of the Department of State and U. S. Travel Service. Mr. Patarra is one of South America's leading journalists and editor of the magazine Quatro Rodas. Management Assistant Godbolt met Mr. and Mrs. Patarra at Mammoth.

Special Activities. The 1965 official opening of Yellowstone National Park was May 1. All entrances except Northeast and the section over Dunraven Pass were open to travel on that date. The Tower Fall-Canyon section over Dunraven Pass opened May 16. Northeast Entrance was opened to travel May 30.

Entrance stations were manned nine hours per day from May 1-28. Starting May 29 they were manned 12 hours per day. The $7.00 Recreation/Conservation Sticker has been well received, generally.

The 1965 fishing season in Yellowstone National Park opened at sunrise on May 30. The normal heavy use of Park waters by fishermen occurred on opening day. Two important changes in regulations became effective this year. The Yellowstone River from the outlet marked by buoys and above the Fishing Bridge at Yellowstone Lake to the Upper Falls at Canyon, will open to fishing July 15, beginning this year, except for a six-mile portion of the Yellowstone River from Alum Creek upstream to Sulpher Cauldron which is closed to all fishing.

Superintendent McLaughlin returned to the Park on May 18 from temporary duty in Western Samoa with a team of three other National Park Service employees assigned to assist the Office of Territories in preparing a plan for outdoor recreation areas and facilities in the islands. The Superintendent arrived in San Francisco May 13 and May 14-17 was spent in the Western Office of Design and Construction drafting a report on the findings and recommendations resulting from the survey of Western Samoa by the team. The team was in Western Samoa from April 18 thru May 10.

The annual Livingston-Yellowstone National Park Party, hosted by the Livingston Chamber of Commerce, on May 15 in Livingston was attended by 42 representatives from Haynes, Inc., Hamilton Stores, Inc., Yellowstone Park Company and the National Park Service. Our Livingston hosts were wonderful and this annual party is a fine example of public relations.

On May 13, Chief Park Ranger Wayne E. Howe and Biologist Robert K. Howe attended the Jackson Hole Cooperative Elk Studies meeting in Jackson, Wyoming.

Biologist Howe attended the Wyoming Wildlife Federation annual meeting at Rock Springs, Wyoming on May 21 and 22, and presented a talk on wildlife management in Yellowstone National Park.

An interagency elk management meeting was held May 26 at Yellowstone National Park Headquarters to review Yellowstone Park's 1965 elk reduction program. Eight agencies were represented by 23 persons. It was noted the 665 elk were live-trapped and shipped to other states last winter. Antelope, deer and bison management were discussed.

Law Enforcement Officer Widmer, Fire Control Specialist Chenal, Fire Dispatcher Lamb and Supervisory Park Ranger Scott attended a Cooperative Indian Liaison Officer Fire Training meeting in Billings on May 20.

Assistant Superintendent J. A. Martinek was on temporary duty in the Director's office through May 21 when he returned to the Park. He attended the Recreation Planning Seminar, Boulder, Colorado, May 24, sponsored by the U. S. Forest Service where he presented an illustrated talk entitled "Design and Planning of Structures, Facilities, and Sites as they Relate to National Park Service Activities". He returned to his assignment in Washington on May 27.

Earthquake. A minor earthquake was felt in West Yellowstone on May 16 at 4:00 a.m. No damage occurred.

The Superintendent's Staff Meeting was held May 20.

Richard C. Miller	Parliamentarian-Timer

In Hospital. George J. Tracy, Fire Cache Supervisor, was a surgical patient in the Deaconess Hospital in Bozeman for a month beginning May 7.

Conservation, Interpretation and Use

Interpretive Services and Planning. The Mammoth and Old Faithful Visitor Centers were opened on May 1, with visiting hours from 8-5 daily. The Norris Visitor Center was opened May 20 on a 5-day week schedule with visitors running generally in small numbers.

Cone talks were offered frequently at Old Faithful during the month, and beginning on the 15th evening campfire programs were presented nightly at Old Faithful. Due to snow conditions in the amphitheater and generally inclement weather, these programs were held in the Visitor Center Exhibit room. This room is small and can accommodate no more than 50 persons comfortably. Fortunately, during the month, this number was exceeded only once. Audience size will grow considerably in the next few weeks and as soon as AV facilities are installed the program will be presented in the amphitheater.

A foot counter pad was placed in the Old Faithful Visitor Center and worked satisfactorily. Although the readings will not produce absolute figures on visitor use, they will reflect relative traffic into the buildings. In order to arrive at a computation ratio several actual counts were made. The statistics tabulated this year should be much more realistic than those of last year.

The Fountain Paint Pot self-guiding nature trail was put into operation the first and approximately 10,500 visitors used the facility during the month.

Immediately at the Sandlake High School Auditorium was held the 5th Annual Mock Service employee citizens graduating were: Joseph Armstrong, Alan Stiver, Anne Wells and Gail Williams. Donald Strong was Salutatorian. Samuel and Gardener Schools closed by 7:. The Citizenship Award presented by the American Legion Post 114, Gardner, for the most outstanding boy citizen, was won by James Wells. This is the second year for the citizenship award.

Key officials of the Ceremonies are:

James R. Corbett	President
Walter J. Lick	Administrator - Vice President
Charles E. Jay	Educational Film Producer
Donald E. Stiles	Treasurer
John T. Wells	Secretary-Clerk
Andrew E. Miller	Pre[illegible]-Clerk

In Memoriam: Thomas J. Tracy, Film Lesson Supervisor, was a surgical patient in the Tennessee Hospital in Bowman for a month beginning May 7.

Concessions, Incidentals and Gifts

Concessions Services and Planning. The Mermaid and Old Mariner Visitor Centers were opened on May 1, with visitors from Sunset City. The Morris Visitor Center was opened May 20 on a 5-day week schedule with visitors coming generally in small groups.

Food Sales were ordered frequently at Old Fairfax during the month, and beginning on the 15th evening complete dinners were prepared nightly at Old Fairfax. The 15-acre [illegible] in the [illegible] and generally business matter, these [illegible] were held in the Visitor Center Auditorium weekly. The final layout of the Upper Geyser Basin Trail Guide map was prepared and taken to Artcraft Printers in Bozeman. The project consisted of six overlays and demanded much of the West District Naturalist's time during the month. It is expected that the map will be available to the public by the middle of June.

The triangular lobby exhibit in the Canyon Visitor Center indicating what to see between various points on the adjacent road system was removed in accordance with the Director's suggestion on his Park visit last season.

A set of new signs was installed in the thermal area at the Mud Volcano and work continued on preparation of a self-guiding trail booklet for that area.

Museum. There were two accessions during the month; a postcard folder, and an assortment of receipt stickers.

YLMA. The spring meeting of the Board of Trustees was held in the West District Naturalist office at Old Faithful on May 1. Two new members, Bryan Harry and Wayne R. Howe, were elected to the Board of Trustees.

Research and Observation. RED SPOUTER changed from a liquid to a steam phase on May 20. This was due in part to less precipitation than during May of the previous two seasons. No pauses in the steady activity of nearby CLEPSYDRA GEYSER have been observed this year as was the cast last season.

During May, GREAT FOUNTAIN GEYSER's eruption pattern was irregular. On the 17th, minor bursts of not more than 6 to 10 feet occurred about every five to fifteen minutes during most of the day rather than major eruptive activity. On succeeding days, the eruptions were normal; however, the overflow periods preceding eruptions were almost twice as long as is normal. This particular type of behavior of Great Fountain has not heretofore been recorded.

STEAMBOAT GEYSER erupted on the 7, 18 and 26 of the month.

During May GRAND GEYSER erupted about every nine to twelve hours indicating greater frequency and regularity than at any time since the 1959 earthquake. RIVERSIDE's intervals are about six and one-half hours; LION about once a week; CASTLE's have varied between 8½ to 9½ hours.

OLD FAITHFUL's average eruption time during May was 67 minutes, the extremes being 44 and 95.

The final layoff of the Super Queen Lucie Trail Bonds was prepared and taken to Antonio Pedrosa in Sarasota. The product consisted of six overlays and demanded work of the Ford Martin Materials's plant during the month. It is expected that the map will be available to the public by the middle of June.

The triangular lobby behind the Sugar Theatre Board Tabletop what to use between various points on the adjacent road system was reported in Antrifuse when the Director's negotiations in his Port Alert last season.

A set of new signs was installed in the Natural area on the road Tulano and work continued on preparation of a self-guiding trail booklet for that area.

Maps. Three more new attractions during the month: a pamphlet folder, and an advertisement of nearby attractions.

Staff. The spring meeting of the Board of Directors was held in the West Director Naturalist office at Old Faithful on May 1. Two new members, Roger Berry and Hayne E. Shaw, were elected to the Board of Trustees.

Research and Observations. Fire activity changed from a slight to a much more to May 20. This was due to your ex-fire observations than during May at the previous two months. In general in all nearly activity of nearly GEYSERS GEYSER have been observed this year as was the case last season.

During May, GREAT GEYSER GEYSER's eruption pattern was irregular. On the 17th, minor bursts of not more than 6 to 10 feet occurred about every 2 or 3 minutes without being used of the dry rather than major eruptive activity. On Saturday day, the eruptions were normal; however, the overflow periods preceding eruptions were almost twice as long as usual. This particular type of behavior of Great Fountain Geyser including been observed.

STEAMBOAT GEYSER erupted on the 7, 12 and 20 of the month.

During the dark cycle erupted about every 4 to 12 days. Indicating greater frequency and regularity than at any time since the 1937 eruptions. STEAMBOAT's intervals are about six and one-half hours, 1200 about per a week; BEEHIVE's has varied between 27 to 37 hours.

The BEEHIVE's average eruption time during May was 67 minutes, the extremes being 44 and 95.

Following the 1959 earthquake, a tepid spring located on an island in the Firehole River south of Sapphire began overflowing and boiling. This condition continued until the current season when further change occurred resulting in geyser activity. When in an active state, water jets up from 11 vents, one of which plays to a height of 10 to 12 feet. This eruption lasts for several hours.

Park Naturalist Mary Meagher spent 8 days in the field checking animal numbers and four days in the office checking out records, sighting records and budgeting. Jaw bones of bison were aged and sent to Kenneth Kiem for research work.
